Respected General Sahib.

Namaskar! Your kind letter reached me yesterday evening and I was so very thankful for your kind sympathies. May Allah reward you very very highly for all the interest you are taking in me. If only you come to hear all that I have been through and I am still undergoing for the loss of my jewellery you will I am sure sympathise with me more indeed!! I will surely not bother you with this. My humble request is to see that I get the compensation that I deserve because, I have not made any false allegation against the Military Unit that took my jewellery.

It was taken by responsible military officers and Col. Thappa (I forget his initials) had assured me when he brought me back to my very grand house in Aurangabad under his arrest that all my jewellery would be returned to me!! Maj. Gen Berar who is ~~stat~~ now in Chandigarh also knows the unit and knows me well!! I am herewith enclosing the letter I received the other day from the M. HQ. I will certainly go and see the officer concerned according to your direction and let you know what he says.

Regarding the very small gift I sent you I do not remember the exact date but it was in the month of April. It was a rectangular case of Resin with small pockets inside and a diary and a pencil. I do hope and pray you have received it and the letter I had enclosed inside this case. It was a small parcel about 6 inches in length and not even $\frac{1}{2}$ an inch in breadth.

With my dutiful respects and regards. Khuda Hafiz

Yours sincerely,
Khurshed.
